	Feature	Action	Expected result	Observed result
	A home page showing (dynamically) all products
1	available for sale	Open the home page on a browser.	Display all the products	All the product are displayed
	A picture of the products with each name and product		Image of product, its name and the start of the product	Each product card included the image, it's name,
2	description	Open the home page on a browser	description	and the start of the product description
	Clicking on the product picture brings user to product		Once user clicks on the image of a product, it should	When clicking the product card, it brings the user
3	page	Click on product image	bring them to the product page	to the product page
			Display of one product with a drop-down menu with	The product page displays the product image, a various color and a selector to update the quantity of	drop-down menu of all the various colors and
4	A product page that presents one product	Open the product page by clicking on product image	the product	user is able to change the quantity of the product
	A drop-down menu to let users choose various colors to		A drop-down menu that shows all of the various colors	When user clicks on the drop-down menu, all
5	customize the product	Open the product page by clicking on product image	of the product	various colors are shown
	A quantity selector for users to change the quantity of 6	the product	Open the product page by clicking on product image	User is able to change the quantity of the product	Quantity is able to be changed
_	A cart page that shows all the selected items, with their	Open the cart page by clicking on the cart button at the		All of the products are displayed in the cart with
7	respective color and quantity	top of the page	and quantity in cart	their selected color and quantity
		Open the cart page by clicking on the cart button at the		Users are able to change the quantities of the 8	Users can modify the quantity of the products	top of the page	User can change the quantity of products	products in cart
		Open the cart page by clicking on the cart button at the 9	Users can see total quantity and price of their cart	top of the page	Display of the total quantity and price of cart	Total quantity and price is displayed
		Open the cart page by clicking on the cart button at the	When users click on the delete button the product is	Product is deleted when user clicks on delete
10	•	top of the page	removed from the cart	button
	A confirmation page where the users order number is	Open the confirmation page by clicking the order button
11	displayed	on the cart page	Order number is displayed	Order number is displayed